

PRESENT A RESEARCH WORKSHOP:

DECENTRALIZATION, SOCIAL RIGHTS, AND COMMUNITY PARTICIPATION IN COMBATING POVERTY AND INEQUALITY IN LATIN AMERICA

Panel sessions include:

What's Left for Central Government? The Role of National Programs

Decentralization, Privatization, and the New State-Society Relationships

Integrated Approaches to Local Development: Innovations and Best Practices

Participation, Survival, and Betterment Strategies: Community and Household Responses

Social Segmentation and Spatial Segregation Outcomes: Recent Trends and Challenges

Keynote Lecture, April 22, 2001, 5:00 P.M.

Texas Union Eastwoods Room

Working Sessions, April 23, 8:30 A.M.-6:00 P.M.

Texas Union

For further information: Jamie B. Lee, tel: 512/232-6319, jblee@mail.utexas.edu

Sponsors include: Andrew Mellon Fellowships Program in Latin American Sociology; C. B. Smith Sr. Centennial Chairs in U.S.-Mexico Relations (I & II); UT Dept. of Sociology; LBJ School Hewlett Center for Inter-American Policy Studies; Ford Foundation Regional Offices: Santiago de Chile, Mexico and Central America, Brazil; Macatee and Cowboys Lectureship Funds; UT Office of the Executive Vice-President and Provost; and the UT School of Graduate Studies.